

Charitable Giving Guidelines

WHO WE ARE

Evolugen by Brookfield Renewable is accelerating Canada's renewable energy evolution by providing clean, renewable energy for generations to come in a manner that is both socially and environmentally sustainable. Our portfolio of facilities and our development expertise in hydro, wind, solar and storage enable us to accelerate Canada towards a low-carbon future by powering both its vibrant metropolitan areas and remote, close-knit communities.

OUR COMMITMENT

We believe in the importance of being an active partner in the communities in which we develop and operate our assets and strive to build strong partnerships. We are committed to investing in programs that enhance community development and quality of life, education, medical and health assistance, and environmental and sustainable development through charitable donations, volunteerism and event sponsorships.

WHAT WE SUPPORT

We support programs, initiatives and organizations that benefit the communities in which we work and live with a focus on:

- Environmental initiatives;
- Health and safety;
- Education and research;
- Community services;
- Indigenous communities.

QUALIFICATIONS

Like many other companies, we receive requests for support from many meaningful organizations, but to make the largest impact in our communities, our investments are directed towards organizations that align with our focus areas.

To qualify for a charitable contribution, the following criteria must be met and submitted by a legally-registered and credible organization that:

- is in or near a community in which we work and live;
- promotes inclusivity;
- demonstrates a measurable impact;
- is financially sustainable.

We do not support organizations or events that: promote the use of alcohol, tobacco, illicit drugs or fire arms; are in support of political parties, associations or candidates; or, are for profit organizations.

REQUEST SUPPORT

Requests for support should be submitted by email to info@evolugen.com for consideration. We endeavor to notified you of our decision within 30 days.